

Getting Around Fremont

Bicycle and Pedestrian Program

The City of Fremont's Bicycle and Pedestrian Program's primary goal is to provide cyclists and pedestrians with safe and accessible routes to all destinations that are served by public roads, trails, and public transit within the City.

- Bicycle and Pedestrian Program

Buses

Traveling by bus is one of the best ways to get around Fremont and nearby cities.

For information and schedules:

- Alameda-Contra Costa Transportation District \(AC Transit\)
- Santa Clara Valley Transportation Authority \(VTA\)

Paratransit

The City of Fremont's Paratransit Program and East Bay Paratransit provide door-to-door, shared ride transportation services to eligible elderly and disabled Fremont residents.

- City of Fremont Paratransit
- East Bay Paratransit

Trains

There are quite a few train options in Fremont depending on your destination city.

Bay Area Rapid Transit \(BART\) takes riders to San Francisco, all over the East Bay, and the San Francisco Airport. Oakland Airport is also accessible from BART via a shuttle bus.

The Altamont Commuter Express \(ACE\) Train takes riders from Stockton, Lathrop/Manteca, Tracy, Vasco, Livermore, Pleasanton, Fremont, Great America, Santa Clara, to San Jose.

Amtrak takes riders across the nation, serving more than 500 destinations in 46 states.